HAMILTON, OH: The Butler County Board of Elections needs poll workers throughout Butler County for the May 8th Primary Election. Every year, thousands of poll workers across the country serve their community by helping friends and neighbors cast their votes. The Butler County Board of Elections must hire approximately 1,300 workers to serve the voters of Butler County on Election Day.

“This is an exciting opportunity to serve our democracy and help people cast their vote,” said Susan Fuson, a poll worker for nine years who recently began training other workers. “People are grateful for my assistance and I know that I am truly needed,” added Susan.

Poll workers earn a minimum of $174 for their service and must attend training, participate in a one-hour meeting on the eve of the election, and work all day on Election Day. Responsibilities include checking in voters, providing any assistance needed, setting up the polling location, and closing the location. Workers are assigned to voting locations within 15 minutes of their homes.

To serve as a poll worker, you must be citizens of the United States and must be fluent in English. Anyone interested in becoming a poll worker can sign up at www.butlercountyelections.org or call (513) 785-5711.
